DID YOU KNOW?
Asphalt can be placed in tight tolerance situations with critical care.

WARTBURG COLLEGE of Waverly has arguably the best running track in its NCAA division, thanks to Renaissance Design Group of Des Moines and Peters Construction Company of Waterloo and Heartland Asphalt, Inc.

The project included a NCAA required steeplechase pit and a half-moon high jump area with a .25% slope. The most critical part of the job was the tight tolerance demanded to provide satisfactory drainage from the running track.

The running track design consisted of a 2-1/2" ACC base, and a 1-1/2" ACC surface over the natural dirt subgrade. A rubberized running surface was placed over the newly placed asphalt mat.

The college enhanced its athletic program with a new football field, circumscribed by a new running track. The track had to be installed first and, most importantly, completed before the start of the fall football practice. Heartland began work on August 6th, and finished their portion of the job on August 10th, meeting that deadline.

"...there was a crucial deadline, but Heartland exceeded our demands, and our expectations..."
